II

100th CONGRESS
1st Session

S. 993

To reorganize the Department of State offices involved in overseas construction projects.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES
April 9 (legislative day, March 30), 1987
Mr. Dole (for himself and Mr. Roth) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

A BILL

To reorganize the Department of State offices involved in overseas
construction projects.

Be it Declassified and Approved For Release 2011/12/05 : CIA-RDP89B01356R000200310002-2 of America in Congress assembled, That (a) notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Under Secretary of State for Management shall have overall management authority and responsibility for all offices and personnel of the State Department involved in the planning and implementation of State Department-managed construction projects undertaken in any foreign country, including--

- (1) The Bureau for Diplomatic Security,
- (2) The Foreign Buildings Office, and
- (3) The Office of Foreign Missions.

(b) On the date of enactment of this Act, direct administrative authority and responsibility over the Foreign Buildings Office of the Department of State and all employees thereof shall be transferred from the Assistant Secretary of State for Administration to the Assistant Secretary of State for Diplomatic Security.

(c) The Secretary of State shall transfer such personnel, any other records, and funds as may be necessary to implement subsection (a).

(d) By December 1 of each year, the Secretary of State shall submit to the Congress a report covering each government construction project planned or underway in a foreign country for which funds will be expended in that fiscal year. Such report shall include--

- (1) an evaluation of all security-related factors which must be and are being considered in the planning and implementation of such project;
- (2) how any existing or potential security-related issues and problems are being addressed in the planning and implementation of such project; and
- (3) the contracting and construction plan for such project.

(e) There shall be established an interagency board, consisting of representatives of the Department of State, Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, and National Security Agency, to be headed by the Under Secretary of State for Management. The board shall review and approve all reports submitted under subsection (d), to include specific approval of the plan submitted pursuant to subsection (d)(3).

(f) The Secretary of State shall consider utilizing the Army Corps of Engineers, in lieu of other government or private contractors, to manage the construction of any government project in any Communist-controlled country.

(g) Whenever the Secretary of State decides not to utilize the Army Corps of Engineers, as prescribed in subsection (f), the report required in subsection (d) shall include an explanation of why the Secretary made such decision.
